

Ali's weekend

Last weekend Ali went to visit his brother, Alias, in Chiang Mai. His brother is studying there.

He went to the bus station at Mor Chit and caught the early morning bus to Chiang Mai.

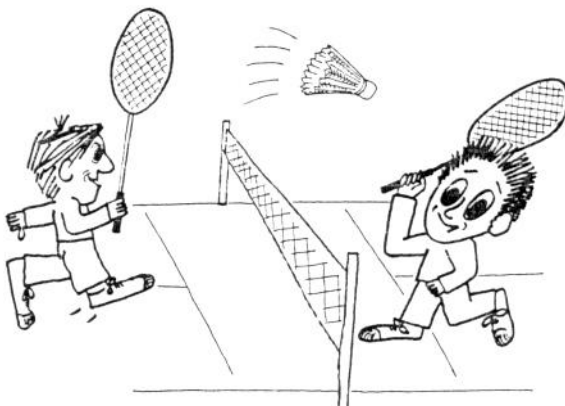

The bus journey took twelve hours and he arrived in Chiang Mai at six o'clock in the evening.

That evening, he and his brother went to the cinema.

The film was very exciting. It was about gangsters in America. There were lots of guns and shooting. Ali and his brother enjoyed the film very much.

After the movie they felt a little thirsty so they went for a hot chocolate at a café near the cinema. They talked about the movie for a long time.

Early the next morning, they went to the sports hall near his brother's house and played badminton. They played for about two hours. Ali won all the games.

That afternoon, they wanted to go fishing but there was a bad thunderstorm and it was too dangerous to sit on the river bank. So they stayed at home and watched the storm out of the window. They weren't very happy.

That evening, Ali caught the night bus back to Bangkok. He enjoyed the weekend very much, especially the badminton!

He was still thinking about all the good things that happened that weekend, when his eyes closed and he fell asleep. He woke up at Mor Chit just in time for breakfast.