

Ali's Day

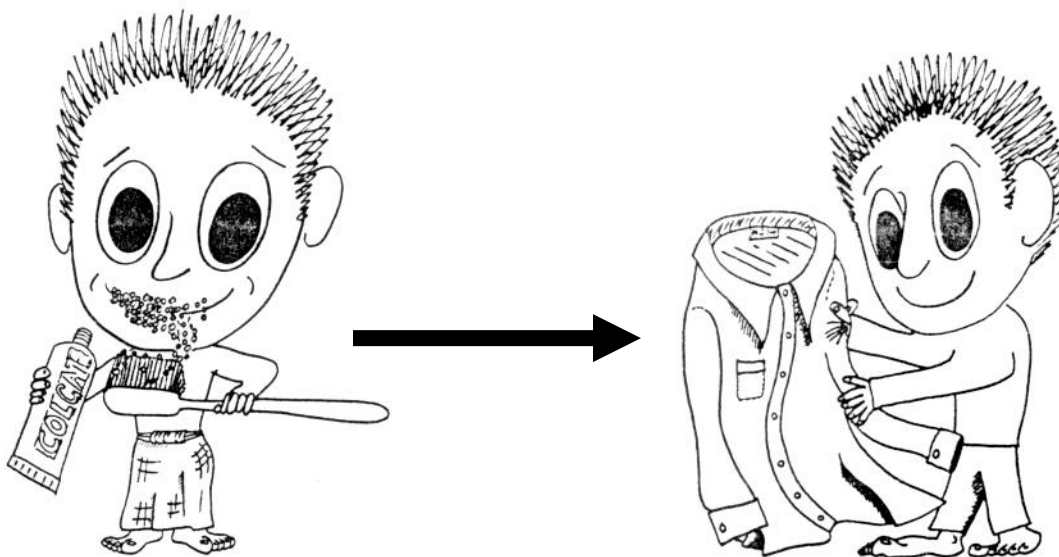

This is Ali. Ali is a boy. He is eight years old. He lives in Chonburi. Every morning he gets up at six o'clock. His alarm clock rings and he opens one eye. Then his mother calls to him.

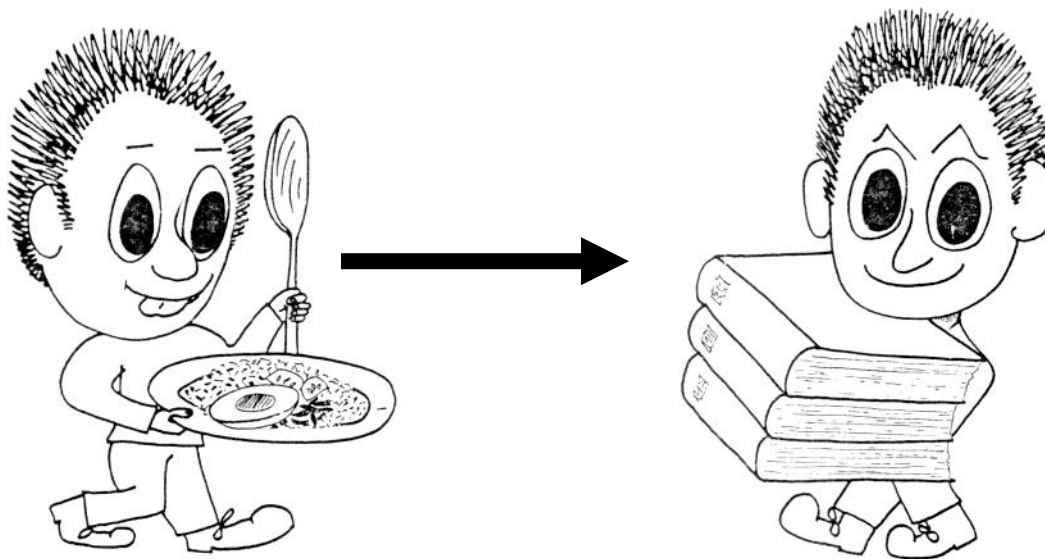

'Ali, it's six o'clock. Time to get up!'

He goes into the bathroom and has a shower. The water is cool and he feels good. After the shower, he brushes his teeth. He uses toothpaste and a toothbrush. Then he puts on his clothes. He puts on his school uniform: a white shirt and black trousers.

After that he goes downstairs and has breakfast. He eats fried rice with egg and cucumber. It's delicious. He usually drinks milk. After breakfast, he takes his books and puts them inside his school bag.

Then he says goodbye to his parents and walks to the bus-stop. When the bus arrives, he gets on the bus and sits with his friends at the back. He arrives at school at seven o'clock.
